6 Survive, 23 Dead In Labrador Crash

Six survivors were found by rescuers today at the scene of the crash Tuesday night of a big Army Transport Command C-54 Skymaster, in the icy wilderness eight miles north of Goose Bay, Labrador. Twenty-three other members of the party on the plane were dead.

This announcement was made shortly before noon today by the U. S. Air Transport Command at Westover Field. It was based on a radio report sent from the scene by Dr. Stanley Bear and Lt. Dale Faules of the helicopter which was flown to Goose Bay from Westover last night.

Westover Field officials said names of the survivors and dead are being withheld pending receipt of a complete report.

SNOW HINDERS RESCUERS

Radio messages said that the driving wet snow was hampering communications and preventing any large-scale rescue operation, but added that additional doctors and supplies were being landed nearby by the helicopter.

A landing and operations space in the snowy, almost inacessible scrubland has been cleared within a half-mile of the charred wreckage.

The big Skymaster plunged in flames in the forested, hilly country only five minutes after taking off from the Goose Bay airfield at midnight, Tuesday. The plane, on an unscheduled flight, was bound for Westoyer Field with mail, cargo, a crew of 10 and 19 passengers. All on board were described as military personnel.

The deserted crash region and the driving weather made it impossible for rescue crews to reach the scene either by air or land for almost 24 hours.

Travelling overland with dog sleds, a rugged rescue party reached the wreckage last night, but the first reports of survivors did not come until today with the landing of the radio-equipped heliocopter.

Army and civilian planes which which hovered over the spot earlier had reported signs of life near the wreckage and were able to discern flares nearby, but were unable to state definitely if this activity came from survivors or Eskimos.

TAIL SECTIONS INTACT

One RCAF pilot reported seeing continual flares, adding that part of the tail sections of the big American transport seemed intact although the remainder of the ship had been gutted by flames.

The helicopter was flown north

Boston, U. S. Tax Office Under Fire

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—A House appropriations subcommittee today turned over to the Justice Department and other federal agencies an investigator's report that "a condition which may embrace criminality exists in the Boston office" of the Internal Revenue Bureau. The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Canfield (R.) of New Jersey, suggested "appropriate action" by the Attorney General, the Treasury Department, the Internal Revenue Commission and the Civil Service Commission.

The committee also sent a printed copy of its hearings and record to Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, because funds of that agency were said to be involved.

There was no formal committee report, only the transcript of the secret hearings being made public.

INVOLVES MARCH OF DIMES

The subcommittee investigation was based on a report of Robert E. Lee, chief of the committee's investigating staff, that "a review of the evidential material" appears to indicate in the Boston office:

"1—A disregard of trust funds.

"2—Lack of proper control and supervision over various collections from outside charitable and political organizations, including the March Of Dimes and the Jefferson Day dinners.

"3—That the civil and criminal sections of the Hatch Act may have been deliberately and consistently violated by the office of the collector at Boston, Mass."

The March of Dimes, which handles contributions for the aid of infantile paralysis victims, is sponsored by O'Connor's organization. Jefferson Day dinners are annual affairs of Democratic party members. The Hatch Act, to which Lee referred, restricts political activity by Federal employes.

BARED IN ROUTINE CHECK

Lee's report, dated Dec. 3, identified Denis W. Delaney as the Collector of Internal Revenue at Boston.

Lee is a former FBI agent. In his report, he asserted that reductions made early this year by Congress in the treasury department's operating funds appear "to have been deliberately applied to the field staff of the Internal Revenue Service, predominantly in the enforcement arm."

The investigation started as a result of reports to the committee that the Treasury Department had "improperly" distributed the budget cuts.

During the course of the routine check in the Boston office, Lee reported:

"There came to light a sum of money in a file cabinet which appeared to be undeposited receipts from the March of Dimes collection of last winter. Information likewise was incidentally revealed indicating possible violations or circumventions of the Hatch Act with specific regards to the political activity clause of that act."

In the printed record was this memorandum, dated Feb. 25, 1946, to Delaney from John E. Burns, chief office deputy at Boston:

"In considering promotions in the field I thought you might like to have a list of employes who purchased dinner tickets to the Hannegan reception."

Robert E. Hannigan was then postmaster general and chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Truman Names U. S. Rights Day

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (INS)—President Truman called for national rededication to "the inspired and lofty principles" embodied in the first 10 amendments to the Constitution by designating Dec. 15 as Bill of Rights Day.

The date marks the 156th anniversary of the adoption of those guarantees which the U. S. has proposed for incorporation in a world declaration of human rights.

The President said the comprehension and evaluation of American liberties is the first condition of remaining free.

New Mystery Comet Baffles Astronomers

SYDNEY, Dec. 11 (AP)—Australian astronomers speculated today that the mysterious astral body which flashed across southern skies for the past three nights may be the famed Encke's comet, which at times behaves erratically.

The comet — photographed in Melbourne last night—appeared on prints as a bright spot in a dark sky with a long, dimming tail. This tail has been estimated by astronomers to be up to 75,000,000 miles long.

The comet was observed in Melbourne last night, at times through telescopes and at intervals with the naked eye, over a period of three hours.

Sky watchers swarmed over roof tops and lawns to view the fiery body.

Dr. Richard Woolley, government observatory director, said he was considering the possibility the comet was Encke's, although he had not discarded his previous belief that it was a new comet.

Director I. L. Thomsen of Carter observatory in Wellington, N. Z., told newsmen he would be "extremely surprised" if the comet proved to be Encke's. He said he believed it to be a new comet.

(On Nov. 26, 1818, a telescopic comet was discovered by a French astronomer named Pons at Marseille. It was subsequently studied by J. F. Encke, German astronomer, who discovered that it had a cometary period of 3.3 years — which was then and still remains the shortest known cometary period. Hence it was named the "True Mercury of Comets.")

Comet Indentity Should Be Simple, Says Harvard

By Associated Press

Dr. Fred L. Whipple of the Harvard College observatory expressed surprise today that "no useful information" had thus far been received to aid in identifying the comet reported sighted in Australia. The observatory serves as a world clearing house for astronomical information.

"The only information we have had so far," he said, "has been from the press, and that has not been sufficiently complete."

Dr. Whipple said identification of Encke's comet—if the Australian comet is that celestial traveler — should be comparitively simple. Encke's comet, he added, was estimated to be heading south in November.

Bay Staters Give Testimony In McCormick Custody Battle

By JAMES J. DELANEY
Boston Evening American Staff Reporter

GREENFIELD, Dec. 11—Several Massachusetts men and women joined today in the $80,000,000 custody battle of the Mc Cormick family of Chicago, with taking of depositions here and in nearby Deerfield. Attorneys for Fowler McCormick and his sister, Muriel McCormick Hubbard, former WAC, arrived here from Hartford to interrogate Bay State witnesses in the lengthy and sensational fight of brother and sister for custody of two orphans adopted by Muriel.

Stories told in depositions taken here and in Greenfield will form part of the testimony to be offered in Chicago when the ex-WAC seeks to regain custody of the children she adopted eight years ago.

COUNSEL IN CLASH

The taking of depositions in Hartford was enlivened by loud clashes between opposing counsel for the wealthy Chicagoans, and some light on the subject matter at issue was shed by the Connecticut witnesses.

One witness, a woman, told reporters after she left the hearing room that she had been sent to Muriel's home in nearby Middletown as a nursemaid for the purpose of "acting like a spy." She refused to say who sent her.

Another witness was a woman child psychologist employed at the Children's Center, Hartford, where Muriel obtained the two children for adoption.

Another witness, Sgt. Anthony Sakra, of the Middletown police, refused to say what he deposed, but in answer to a question by newsmen, said:

"I have been a police officer in Middletown ever since Mrs. Hubbard married. I have seen her day after day. She did not know me and I did not know her other than a police officer, ONLY PRAISE FOR MURIEL

"Until these hearings, I have never spoken to the woman, and since these hearings, I have answered only two of her questions.

"But I have never observed anything off-color in any way about her. She was as perfectly conducted as any woman I have ever seen. There is nothing I could say that would picture her as other than ordinary, everyday woman in this city."

Muriel has already stated in the Chicago courts where the final hearings on the custody suit will be held next month, that her brother, his wife, Mrs. Anne "Fifi" Stillman McCormick, and her aunt, Anita McCormick Blaine opposed adoption of two foundlings by her in 1939.

GAVE UP CHILDREN AS WAC

The children, Edith, now 14, and Elisha, now 10 were adopted in 1939, Muriel said, at the express wish of her husband, Maj. Elisha Hubbard who died in 1936.

Under the law, Muriel had to give up her guardianship of the children when she joined the WAC in 1941.

Fowler and the others opposed to the further custody of the children by Muriel charge that she is unfit.

Muriel countered with the assertion that Fowler sought their custody "with some thought" of the $80,000,000 Rockefeller-McCormick families trust funds which she will inherit and which she said she intends to pass on to her adopted children.

Irwin Search Break Hinted By Police Trip

A possible break in the police search for Eugene T. Irwin, Jr., 32-year-old Dorchester auto dealer, loomed today when Deputy Supt. James Sheehan, racket squad leader, made a hurried trip to the missing man's home in Hartford st., picked up Irwin's brother, John, an attorney, and headed for an undisclosed destination. Sheehan was accompanied by Detective Edward Crickard, who, at the police lineup earlier, brought the racket-buster a slip of paper resembling a check. Sheehan examined it a moment, told Crickard, "Let's go," and they sped to Dorchester in a police car.

Irwin, missing a week now, had several checks on his person when he vanished after a trip intown to purchase two automobiles from a man identified only as "Dave Andrews.

As Atty. Irwin left the house with Sheehan and Crickard, he told newspapermen:

"All I know is that I'm going to police headquarters."

Sheehan said there would be "one stop" before they went to headquarters but he refused to elaborate.

STILL FEARS IRWIN DEAD

Irwin paused only long enough to deny that his brother's wife had expressed belief at headquarters last night that the missing man had been an amnesia victim.

"I still think he is dead so does she," he said. "He would have communicated with us somehow if he were still alive."

Meanwhile, police released a twice arrested suspect in the case, a 26-year-old Quincy man, who told them he had driven the auto dealer to a meeting in Post-office sq. with "Andrews" but had left Irwin there before Andrews appeared.

Irwin had gone to the spot with cash and checks totaling at least $7000. He had augmented the checks by withdrawing cash from the Shawmut Nation Bank, according to his brother.

Bank tellers, at the request of police, have been keeping watch for the checks to show up.

$200,000 Yearly For Royal Couple

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—An all-party House of Commons committee recommended today a £25,000 ($100,000) increase in the yearly allowance to Princess Elizabeth, making her income £40,000 ($160,000).

The committee proposed also that £0,000 ($40,000) annually be allowed to Prince Philip, her bridegroom.

Shortly before the royal marriage, three weeks ago, King George VI offered to increase Elizabeth's allowance by using his own savings.

The committee made its report shortly after Buckingham Palace announced Elizabeth and Philip would return Sunday from their honeymoon.

Judge Rules Love Of Dog Priceless

HARTFORD, Dec. 11 (AP) — You can't put a price on the love and affection of a dog, says Judge S. Burr Leikind of the Hartford City Court. The jurist's decision upheld the claim of George Menard of this city.

The case was the suit of Joseph Howard against Menard. Howard's black police dog was killed by Menard's auto in an accident last year. The owner of the dog filed suit for $250 because of "the property loss of said dog and also the loss of the love and affection of said dog."

Menard claimed that he could not properly be sued for the loss and affection of the dog, although he admitted the dog owner did have a right to seek to recover the property value of the animal.

Judge Leikind ruled that the suit could go on as long as only property value was considered."

MARBLEHEAD WOMAN WINS $26,000 CONTEST—A gala celebration is in the offing for Mrs. Irving B. Oliver, of Marblehead, her daughter, Nancy, 5, and husband, after she had been declared winner in a nation-wide soap contest with an award of $26,000. NICKY'S SHORT CUT LONG WAY ROUND

The short cut taken on his way to school today by 9-year-old Nicholas Vaccaro of Foster st., North End, turned out to be the long way after all.

Nicholas, a third-grader at Paul Revere school, Prince st., cut through the Eliot school yard, climbed a chain link fence and started down. His right leg became lodged between a fence post and the wall of a building facing Charter st.

When he couldn't free himself he gave loud and urgent voice. Firemen were called. They rushed Nicholas loose with a crowbar and he hobbled to classes with a bruised knee.

Truman Hits GOP Anti-Inflation Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—President Truman met Republican counter-proposals for wage and price legislation today with the declaration anything less than the Administration's 10-point program for curbing living costs will be inadequate.

Mr. Truman told his news conference he will submit ot Congress in a couple of days specific legislation covering the wage and price controls he has requested.

The Republican plan appeared headed for quick Congressional approval with Democratic members of Congress indicating willingness to allow Republicans to pass their program and take the blame if it fails. They contend the GOP plan to curb inflation by "voluntary" means will flop.

In a nutshell, here's what the GOP bill would do:

1—Permit and encourage business, industry and agriculture to agree on sharing transportation facilities, marketing livestock and poultry in a manner to utilize grain most efficiently, dividing up scarce commodities which affect living costs or industrial production, and regulating speculation on the commodity exchanges. Price-fixing, however, would be barred.

2—Continue for one year from Feb. 28, 1948, the President's authority to regulate exports, and authorize the President to fix maximum markups in export prices over domestic prices.

3—Continue for the same period existing law authorizing the President to allocate rail transportation facilities, such as boxcars.

4—Increase from 25 per cent to 40 per cent the gold reserve behind currency issued by Federal Reserve Banks and increase from 25 per cent to 35 per cent the gold reserve Federal Reserve Banks must carry to support deposits of commercial banks.

A LIGHT TALE

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 11 (AP)—Warner Keehn has the problem of providing a tail light for his horse.

Keehn fitted a merry-go-round horse with an engine and wheels. When he got his invention perfected so it would travel 15 miles an hour, turn at the touch of the reins and pull a sled or cart, he applied for a patent.

He also visited the Washington State Patrol to see if the officers could classify his mechanical nag.

They could. It is a motor vehicle and to be licensed as such must have a headlight and tail light.

House Backers Forecast Speedy Aid Bill Sanction

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Backers claimed today that the $590,000,000 emergency foreign aid bill is "over the hump" and drove for final passage in the House.

Reps. Vorys (R.) of Ohio, and Jarman (D.) of Alabama, told reporters they figured the bill skimmed over its biggest hurdles when the House decisively rejected amendments to:

Cut the bill to $290,000,000.
Reduce it to $500,000,00.
Raise it to $661,000,000.

There still were openings for more attempts to juggle the total. But Vorys, who has been managing the measure oin the floor, said:

"I feel that the bill is now over the hump. The amendments to date have improved the bill, net. I don't see any ahead that could damage the bill seriously and we've had fairly good success in defeating bad amendments."

BLOCK FUND SLASH

Jarman said he thought opponents probably mustered their peak power behind an amendment by Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R.) of Wisconsin, to allow the even $500,000,000 for winter help to Italy, France, Austria and China. The House turned it down 147 to 97.

The administration had asked for $597,000,000 for Italy, France and Austria alone and the Senate said okay. No immediate help was proposed for China. The House foreign affairs committee then trimmed the bill to $590,000,000 and said $60,000,000 of the total should be for China.

The foreign aid bill merely authorizes the spending of money. Once the House passes it, the Senate and House will have to compromise differences.

MUST AUTHORIZE CASH

The actual cash must be appropriated in a separate bill on which the House appropriations committee is working now.

While refusing to change the amount of money, at least for the time being, the House did write into the bill several amendments.

Two are aimed at Communism. The lawmakers accepted first a provision by Rep. Rivers (D.), of South Carolina, to prevent Communist officials or organizations getting any hand in distributing relief supplies. The vote was 109 to 57.

Then it voted 78 to 37 to write in a suggestion of Rep. Fisher (D.), of Texas, that the United States stop any assistance under the bill to any country whose government might come under Russian or Communist party domination.

Rome Strike Riots Smashed By Police

ROME, Dec. 11 (INS)—Police went into action with clubs and broke up several noisy demonstrations in front of the Italian foreign office today at the start of a city-wide general strike which idled 600,000 workers.

A number of persons suffered injuries and several arrests were made.

Massed in Rome's Piazza Colonna, the deemonstrators booed and jeered as jeeploads of police sped by.

This was the only disturbance reported in early stages of the otherwise orderly strike, called last night by the Communist majority of the labor union's directorate despite government pledges that their demands would be met.

Premier Alcide de Gasperi conferred with Republican leaders in an effort to reshuffle his cabinet, while ministers of labor, reasury and public works met with labor representatives seeking to settle the strike.

Union orders for an orderly strike were being generally obeyed, though strikers did attempt unsuccessfully to break into the Christian Democrat party headquarters. "aPrtisans," however, took over the city hall in the Adriatic port of Pescara.

The unions have demanded a 10-billion lire public works project for the winter.

Both the entior and transportation ministries reported from 70 to 80 per cent of their employes working, having refused to obey the strike order.

Hynes on Old Job, Silent on Curley

City Clerk John B. Haynes, who had served as temporary mayor during Mayor Curley's five-month absence from City Hall, returned to his regular duties today after a two-week vacation, declining to comment on the Mayor's attitude toward him since the latter's return.

Observers had noted Curley on his return treated Hynes coldly. Since then he has spoken critically of the manner in which Hynes handled city affairs.

"I had at emporary job to do and I did it," Hynes said today. "Now I am back where I started from and content to be here."

Hynes pointed to a stack of mail as evidence his work was already set out fo rhim.

British Shut Jerusalem as Battle Rages

JERUSALEM, Dec. 11 (AP)—British troops blocked the gates of Jerusalem's old walled city just before noon today as firing in its ancient maze of streets reached proportions which indicated a battle of sizable proportions had broken out between Arab and Jewish Inhabitants.

Closing of the gates barred further exodus by both Jews and Arabs, who had been frantically moving out their possessions in army trucks throughout the morning.

The battle apparently broke out when Arabs occupied a synagogue and hoisted their flag over the building. They later were driven out by the Jews. One Arab was reported killed and two Jews wounded in this engagement.

Arab sources said two more Arabs were killed in an attack on the wall surrounding the Jewish quarters.

These killings, together with others reported from different sections, increased to 146 the number of fatalities since the United Nations decision to partition the Holy Land.

The bodies of six more Arabs were found, meanwhile, in an orange grove bordering Tel Aviv.

Quincy police vowed it will not happen again as they increased their guard today over Christmas trees erected in Quincy sq. which were stripped of bulbs and several feet of wire by thieves.

Big Four Parley Snagged By Stop-Molotov Problem

LONDON, Dec. 11 (INS)—Observers at the Council of Foreign Ministers believe that western powers are now faced with the difficult task of getting Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov to "stop talking and go home."

Many London observers feel the United States, British and French delegations want the conference to end.

It is said they don't trust the Soviet government, and doubt that a sound basis for a four-power agreement on Germany can be found at this time.

American officials particularly are said to be eager to get going with plans for development of Germany's industrial Ruhr as part of the Marshall Plan.

All three western delegations are reportedly convinced that Molotov is deliberately stalling in order to delay as long as possible the economic unification of western Germany. Thus he hopes to prevent the implementation of the Marshall Plan.

The attitude of the western ministers was stated bluntly yesterday by Sec. Marshall:

"We are wasting time when there is no time to waste."

Brockton Blaze Fatal to Widow, 2 of 6 Children

BROCKTON, Dec. 11—Mrs. Helen Schmechel Vines, 31, twice-widowed mother of six, died today at Brockton Hospital of burns suffered in a furious blaze which took the lives of two of her children and hospitalized the other four and a boarder.

Robert Schmechel, 7, and his sister, Winifred, 9, perished attempting to make their way through the flames down a stairway in their home.

The other children, Ralph Schmechel, 11; Sidney Schmechel, 8; Helen Schmechel, 12, and Catherine Vines, 2, were under treatment for burns. Doctors at Brockton and Goddard hospitals reported all showed improvement and said their conditions were not serious. Robert Clements, 35, a boarder, was released after treatment.

DIES A HEROINE

Police said Winifred lost her life in a vain effort to save her brother Robert. Firemen found their bodies a few feet apart after the other occupants of the cottage home—a converted garage—had leaped or were tossed 10 feet from upper bedrooms.

Winifred awakened by smoke, shouted a warning to other members of the family. Then, instead of following the rest to safety through the escape window, she ran in a vain effort to save Robert.

Clements picked up the baby, Catherine, and dropped her into a snowpile outside the building. One by one, he dropped the remaining children and finally pushed Mrs. Vines to safety as she shrieked that two of the children still were somewhere in the flame-swept home.

In her plunge, she pulled Clements with her, and the pair rolled over and over on striking the ground.

RUSHED TO HOSPITALS

Neighbors attracted by the bright flames had summoned fire and police departments, who whisked the burned victims to the two hospitals almost as soon as they struck the snow-covered ground.

Fire Chief Lawrence Lynch said the blaze apparently started from sparks from a fireplace. The building had been converted from a one-story garage about 18 months ago, with a half story being added for sleeping space.

The mother was first married to Henry Schmechel, a Brockton furniture mover, who was killed in an accident five years ago.

Later she married Clarence Vines, who was killed in action during the closing days of World War II.

MRS. J. J. SULLIVAN, MAUREEN
Mother Dying, Baby Dies

Solon's Wife Saved As Baby Dies in Fire

Cheered by the arrival of her husband from Florida, Mrs. Frances Sullivan of Massachusetts ave., Cambridge, today showed slight improvement at Mt. Auburn Hospital, Cambridge.

She was burned in a kitchen flash fire which took the life of a daughter, Maureen, 2.

The youngster died at the same hospital a half-hour before her father, State Rep. Jeremiah J. Sullivan, landed at East Boston after a chartered plane dash from Miami. He had been in Florida with a legislative recess commission studying insurance matters.

Mother and daughter were pulled from the flame-swept kitchen by John Tutty, 35, of Wildwood st., Winchester, who was flooring a hallway at the Sullivan home.

The fire was caused, according to Fire Chief Henry E. Gilfoyle, when a gas stove pilot ignited fumes thrown off from a cleaning fluid Mrs. Sullivan was using to polish silver.

The dress of the youngster caught fire immediately and the flames enveloped her despite desperate efforts of the mother to beat out the fire. The latter suffered burns on the face, body and arms in her attempt to save her child.

There are three other children in the family, Jay, 9; Nancy 7, and Jane, 4. Jay, a sufferer from rheumatic fever, was in bed at the top of the house and escaped. The little girls were playing in the front yard.

New Heart Surgery Revives 'Dead' Boy

CLEVELAND, Dec. 11 (INS)—A 14-year-old Louisville, Ohio, boy who was "apparently dead for an hour and 10 minutes during a chest operation, is alive today because of the persistence of doctors at Lakeside Hospital.

The youth, Richard Heyard, was revived by a new method of resuscitation used by Dr. Claude S. Beck, associate professor of surgery at Western Reserve University.

The case, first of its kind in recorded medical history, is reported by Drs. W. H. Pritchard, Harold Feil and Beck in the Dec. 13 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Ass'n, and was described by Dr. Pritchard to doctors at the hospital.

The new method reversed ventricular fibrillation of at least one hour and 10 minutes' duration. In all previous cases this has resulted in death.

The technique used to save Heyard involved massaging of the heart, injection of a drug, procaine hydrocloride, into the heart to make it less irritable, and electric shock, which brought the heart to a standstill and enabled it to return to a co-ordinated motion.

For almost two and a half hours of the more than six-hour long operation, the surgeon massaged Heyard's exposed heart, compressing the ventricles and expelling the blood from them about 40 times a minute.

The Journal account reads, in part:

"There were no signs or symptoms of injury to the central nervous system, and he was discharged on his 31st hospital day."

Henri Bonnet Car Skids in Billerica

BILLERICA, Dec. 11—Henri Bonnet, French ambassador to the U. S., and Gaspar Bacon, Dedham, former State Senator, escaped injury today when their car skidded on the Boston rd., here, bumped the car ahead of it and was itself prodded by the car behind it.

The two other cars were driven by Thomas Galvin, Chestnut st., Wilmington, and Winchester Fire Chief James E. Callahan. No injuries were reported and damage to the cars was slight.

Bonnet was on the way to Boston after a speaking engagement in Manchester, N. H., last night.

Providence Firemen Rescue 3 in Blaze

Providence, R. I., Dec. 11 (AP)—Three persons, including a 3-year-old girl, were rescued by firemen when flames swept through a combination store and two-family dwelling early today. One fireman was overcome by smoke.

Trapped by the fire, which started in a cellar and quickly mushroomed up stairsways to the roof, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Jones and their child were removed by ladder from their third-floor tenement.

KISS FOR LAWYER AFTER VERDICT—Attractive Wanda Kovacs kisses her attorney, Leo J. Healy, in King's County Court, New York, after a jury found her not guilty in the bayonet-slaying of George Mehling, war veteran. It took the jury three-and-a-half hours to acquit the 26-year-old girl of slaying Mehling, with whom she lived and supported because she felt "sorry for him."

Clearing Sky Lessens Peril Of Icy Roads

Warmer temperatures and clearing skies combined to melt the two-inch snowfall here today but early motorisst and pedestrians found the going hazardous in the forenoon—especially in the suburbs.

Joseph Curreri, 13, Elm st., Braintree, who had stopped on his way to the Penniman School to help his assistant principal put chains on her car, suffed a broken right ankle when an auto driven by Leonard W. Maloney, River st., Braintree, skidded into the stalled car in Middle st. The boy was taken to Quincy City Hospital.

Also at that hospital with a similar injury is Donald Mooney, Safford st, North Quincy, who slipped on glazed underfooting near his home.

Miss Barbara Connolly, 18, Crochette ave., Dorchester, escaped injury when her car went out of control in Summer st., Hingham, and crashed into the showroom windows of an auto company.

Driving conditions were still dangerous on main highways where the snow was packed hard and icy. But the weather bureau said rising temperatures would cause considerable thawing throughout southern New England.

Motorists who parked their cars illegally in Cambridge last night found them towed away today on orders of Police Chief John R. King, who said the measure was taken to forestall a repetition of last year's difficulties when the public works department was unable to clear the streets because of parked cars.

San Francisco Called 2d Highest Red Center

New Process Makes Movies From Television in Seconds

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Television circles expressed keen interest today in the possibilities for theater television and exchange of film-recorded programs raised by extremely fast film processing methods demonstrated here.

Paramount Pictures gave a public demonstration at Television Broadcasters Ass'n of its process by which it said a motion picture could be made directly from a television screen and be projected on a theater screen 66 seconds later. A standard 35-millimeter film was used.

Eastman also gave a demonstration at a closed session of a method using a 16-millimeter film which it said could be processed in a matter of seconds.

Television officials said the fast film processing offered interesting possibilities in recording programs for exchange with other stations and for theater elevision, as well as other television applications.

Czech Trade Pact With Russia Revealed

PRAGUE, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Czechoslovak press said a trade agreement with Russia was signed in Moscow today following approval by Czechoslovakia's cabinet.

$2400 Czech Tax Hits U. S. Auto Gifts

PRAGUE, Dec. 11 (AP)—Czechoslovakia has decreed an entry tax of 120,000 crowns ($2400) on American automobiles entering this country as gifts. Automobiles sent by immediate families of Czechoslovaks are exempted from the tax, and those belonging to visitors will be admitted under international touring privileges.

Atom Plant Labor Dispute Settled

OAK RIDGE, Tenn, Dec. 11 (AP)—A month-long labor dispute affecting 3000 production employes of one of the government's huge atomic energy plants was settled here today.

An agreement "in the dispute at Oak Ridge between the United Chemical Workers (CIO) and the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corp." was announced by C. H. Williams, regional director, Eloise B. Stewart and Clyde M. Mills of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

It was reported unofficially that the union, which had sought a 25-cent-an-hour blanket wage increase for the 3000 employes affected, had agreed to a 10-cent-an-hour increase under a contract lasting 18 months, with a clause providing for reopening of wage negotiations in eight months.

Abandoned Baby Given Full Name

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 11 — A three-month-old boy, abandoned Saturday night in Newport, today was taken to the hearts of nurses at the Doyle Avenue Home, where he is scheduled to spend the next year.

Before being brought here, however, the youngster had to have a name and here it is: Joseph Noel Vernon.

Officials of the Child Service Society of Newport arrived at that appellation in this way:

Joseph is a good old Navy name. Noel was chosen because young Joe was abandoned near Christmas. Vernon is the name of the street on which he was found. After a year, if the child's mother does not come forward, Joseph will be sent to a state or foster home.

Wife of Rabbi Wise Dies in New York

Stenographer Given Year's Holiday, Travel on Full Pay

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP)—Miss Nellie Mason, who is living a stenographer's dream come true—a year's vacation with pay—already is looking forward to the next one—in 1951.

Miss Mason has been a stenographer for some 25 years, but never until she came to work for M. Glen Miller, president of an advertising agency, did she hope to take a year off to see the country and get paid for doing it.

Miller put into practice a plan granting each employe a year's vacation after six years' employment, on the stipulation it be spent in something useful, such as travel or study, and that the employe write the office once a week to report on his or her activities.

Miss Mason was the first of Miller's 12 employes to qualify, and left on a nation-wide sightseeing tour by rail in July.

She spent the first half of her year's vacation traveling in the West, with trips to Canada and Mexico.

She saw pulp mills, sawmills and plywood mills; learned about deep sea fishing and oyster beds, and got "a general education really," she said.

State of Maine potatoes are preferred by American housewives. To supply their demands last year it took 57,000 cars, which would make a train 441 miles long. There's a reason for their popularity.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WHEN A SMALL BOY, I went to school on Broome st. on the lower East Side of New York. There may have been a Christian child in my class but I do not recall any such unusual being. We were all Jewish children; our parents were immigrants from Poland, Russia, Galicia and such places.

Nevertheless, when Christmas came, as it did each year, we learned to sing Christmas carols and we had a Christmas tree and we gave our teacher Christmas presents. Our parents did not object; maybe they were too hard-working and too happy to be in this land of freedom to bother with such details.

Nearly always, just about Christmas time, we would also celebrate Hannukah, the feast of the Maccabees, which was quite merry, particularly as we would be given presents and we ate lots of potato pancakes. It was a season of great merriment and it was all especially good for little children.

So I was shocked when I read that an assistant superintendent of schools in New York had forbidden the singing of Christmas carols in the public schools under his jurisdiction.

Then it appeared that he had been misunderstood and that what he really meant was that it was to be left to each principal to decide what to do. And all kinds of people had their say about it.

REALLY, THIS WAS a stupid bit of very bad judgment, inevitable in the total secularization of education where they teach all sorts of scientific superstitions and mythology, but become frightened lest a child learn that there is a God who has given man conscience and will and the capacity to understand the difference between right and wrong.

What harm can it do a Jewish child to sing a Christmas carol or a Christian child to learn of the heroism of Judas Maccabeus? If we are God's children, may we not learn each other's songs? Or are we not God's children?

Are we only a beach-worm evolved into man by some trickiness of nature while other worms just remained worms? Is it less superstitious to believe the worm theory than the Adam and Eve theory?

How much more logical is Sam Goldwyn's "The Bishop's Wife." When this child from the Warsaw ghetto told me that this was his greatest picture, I could not but feel that Sam was promoting another Hollywood exaggeration.

But after I saw it, I realized that truly one must feel the presence of God to produce such a Christmas tale. And it was taken from a book by Robert Nathan, a Jew.

This "The Bishop's Wife" tells so simply and truly and understandingly. True, Hollywood must tell it in its own way, using the implements and dimensions that it has at hand; yet, never for a moment is the all-enduring Christmas message of love lost.

YES, IN THIS picture, even a bishop forgets his faith. He suffers from practicality. He would sooner build a glorious cathedral of stone and steel than bring the light of love into the lives of those about him. He is driven by the need for accomplishment.

He who preaches of angels doubts the one who comes into his life. For sophistication permits him to speak what he does not surely believe. Yet, in the end, the bishop, too, knows the truth, for he has witnessed God's wonders performed.

I felt, as I watched "The Bishop's Wife" on the screen, that Sam Goldwyn the immigrant from a Warsaw that is no more, whose kin must have been among those murdered by hate, was impelled to portray this picture of love, of kindliness, of forbearance as a Christmas carol in this year 1947.

Human Nerve Center Seen For First Time

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11 (AP)—The first look into the mysterious central core of human nerve fibres, revealing a structure never seen before, was announced today to the Electron Microscope Society of America.

The discovery, which promises new knowledge about how nerves work, was made by Dr. E. De Robertis and Dr. Francis O. Schmitt, biologists of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The looking was done with an electron microscope, which achieves effective magnifications of 100,000 times actual size, or far beyond the power of microscopes using ordinary light.

Nerves are composed of many fibers arranged in parallel, like a cable. Evidence was found that the core of each individual fiber contains many long string-like structures about half a millionth of an inch thick. They appear to be tubular or cylindrical in shape, and they run in parallel lines.

Exactly how nerves transmits imulses is still a mystery. It is known that it is an electro-chemical action in nature, and that impulses may be transmitted at seeds as high as 300 feet per second.

The role of the new-found particles in this transmission mechanism and the function of nerves is not known, but is being studied intensively, Drs. De Robertis and Schmitt said.

Drinking Seen Moral Pitfall For Women

Stressing that a large number of sex cases stem from promiscuous drinking by women who spend their time in bars, Judge Samuel Eisenstadt of Roxbury Court, which has to handle more women drunks each day than any other district, today charged this is due to the concentration of saloons which masquerade as cafes in the area.

"These cafes are just blinds where women can congregate to get drunk," he declared. "If they would only stop serving women after a few drinks, instead of letting them hang around, we might have fewer cases of women drunks.

"In the days before prohibition it was not considered good taste for women to frequent bars. If they wished to drink, they could do so, accompanied by their escorts, in special bars.

HONKY-TONK PATRONS

"Today women of impeccable background drink in cafes which are no more than honky-tonks. They often land in our courts here under appalling circumstances.

"We have had several cases recently of women of respectable family who were found in alleys, one behind the billboard of a cafe hangout.

"The shame and the stigma placed upon such a woman prisoner while appearing in court to be sentenced is cruel for her family to endure."

Judge Eisenstadt disclosed that a survey of Roxbury Court figures shows that a large majority of women arrested for drunkenness have passed 35

MANY ESCAPE ARREST

He said that between 75 and 80 per cent are married women. He stressed that many women who should be arrested for being drunk frequently were not, due to a policeman's aversion to fighting with a woman drunk while taking her to the station.

"Although we have several each day, the number would be much larger if all policemen arrested drunken women on sight," he said.

"They come to this area from other parts of the city because the large number of cafes acts as a lure."

Britain Girds For Atomic Age Defense

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Every adult and child in Britain will be trained for self-protection against air attack in the atomic age under a government plan to reorganize the civil defense service.

A highly mobile, full time force will be available at short notice for duty in any part of the country.

The new service was disclosed today in a home office memorandum which said:

"After a major attack on a large centre of population, the task of civil defense will be so onerous that every able-bodied man and woman will be required to make some contribution to the measures of relief and restoration."

A White Paper said 1,027,000 of the 56,000,000 acres of land in Britain will be retained for use by the Navy, Army and Royal Air Force and for Military research and training. More than half the area will be used for rifle ranges, battle training grounds, tank maneuvers and army camps. The remaining acreage will be permanent sites for airfields, barracks, stores, gun emplacements and radar establishments.

U. S. Funds to Help Build Seven Hospitals

Seven Massachusetts communities were notified today that $1,595,025 in federal funds will be available to them until 1949 for construction of new public and non-profit hospitals.

They are Medford, Needham, Woburn, Ipswich, Athol, Milford and Northbridge. For every dollar of federal funds used, two additional dollars must come from local sources, it was announced.

FRENCH CRUSH REBELS

Hunt Swindler In Racket on Vets' Families

A man allegedly perpetrating one of the meanest type of frauds —playing on the sentiments of bereaved families of veterans—was being sought today by Greater Boston police following a request sent out by the Revere department.

The man, a 39-year-old Attleboro resident, has, according to Sgt. William F. Gannon of the Revere police, approached the parents of many Revere war veterans and offered to frame pictures and service certificates and embellish battle stars and unit insignia.

After securing payment of $2 to $5 in each case, and promising delivery within a week, he disappeared.

More than a score of families have been the prey of the alleged swindler.

Sgt. Gannon built up the case as complaints flowed in from Revere families who had waited a month or more for the return of insignia and certificates.

According to police, the man has not been seen at his usual haunts for some time.

Plane Crash

A light Nordyn Norseman, a plane used by Canadian bush pilots located the wreckage eventually despite bad weather, and later reported a lone figure with vigorously waving arms.

Goose Bay, a large RCAF base which also has an ATC establishment to service this leg of their European setup, has its own equipment for search and rescue operations, including planes, boats and overland dogsled units.

PLANE OVER SCENE

Within a short time rescue parties were organized and shoved off with dog sleds, as Canadian planes hovered over the scene of the crash and guided the searchers.

LYNN MAN THERE

Lt. John G. Polansky of Chicago was piloting the B-17, Lt. William A. Lockyer of Philadelphia was co-pilot, and a local boy, Lt. Richard G. Sorgini of Lynn, navigator.

Three helicopter pilots aboard the C-82 were identified by the Army as Lts. Robert Zadnick of Michigan, Dale Paules of Wyoming and Thomas R. Tipton of Indiana.

It was the second rescue attempt in the far North in 11 months for Westover Field headquarters. Last February 11 U. S. airmen were saved after their B-29 crash-landed on the icy wastes of Greenland.

Two Killed in Crash Of Yule Mail Trains

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex., Dec. 11 (AP)—Tfo Missouri-Kansas-Texas passenger trains collided head-on her last night and exploded into flames, killing two trainment, injuring nine other persons and leaving two of the crew missing.

Mickey Pattillo(special agent for the railroad, said the two engineers "evidently got their orders mixed up." Both trains were heavily loaded with Christmas mail. An estimated 1800 sacks of mail burned and another 1800 were saved. Mail sacks were found 300 feet from the tracks.

STATE HOUSE FIRE TRACED

Fire in the rear of Gardner Auditorium, which was extinguished by State House employes with little damage, was traced today to a cigaret carelessly tossed into a pile of cards.

GETTING HER GOAT

LORAIN, O., Dec. 11 (AP)—Miss Margaret Novak said today she isn't looking forward to Christmas—unless police can convince a mysterious "Julius" he shouldn't send her any more goats.

A goat was tied to her front porch a month ago. Another was left in the same place this week.

The second goat bore this note:

"Keep him and feed him, and I'll send you another for Christmas. (Signed) Julius."

Miss Novak told police she suspected the goats were sent by a young man she refused to date.

PRETTY SOFT

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 11 (AP)—Chris Sorenson, 60, a park employe, got his face pushed in the mud, and liked it.

Sorenson was standing behind a tractor which was uprooting trees when a cable gave way. The tractor lurched backward, running over him. Fellow workers dug him out of the soft mud and rushed him to a hospital.

Doctors said he was only scratched and bruised—thanks to the mud.

Gen. Smuts Hits Russia; Back British, He Urges

PRETORIA, South Africa, Dec. 11 (INS)—Prime Minister Jan Smuts scathingly attacked Russia and advised his nation to take a stand with the British Commonwealth and the United States. The 77-year-old field marshal, speaking at the opening of the Transvaal Provincial Congress, declared:

"The East is marshalled together with its satellites. It is a question of whether it is possible to stem the tide before it has gone too far."

FACTS ABOUT SECURITY

NO BETTER ARGUMENT for Universal Military Training in the United States has been made than that which appears indirectly in a report of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives on the Marshall Plan to stop the spread of Communism in Europe.

With data provided by the Department of the Army, the Congressional committee presented the following disturbing facts:

The Soviet army and its air force outnumber the COMBINED STRENGTH of the armed forces of Western Europe and THE UNITED STATES.

Russia alone has a Red army of 4,050,000 men organized into 175 divisions.

The eight Russian satellite countries have 100 additional divisions of 1,121,600 men.

A total of 275 divisions, composed of 5,171,600 soldiers, is ready to MARCH when the Soviet Politburo commands.

IN CONTRAST, the twelve "free" nations of Western Europe could assemble only 105 divisions of ground troops—a maximum of 2,879,000 men.

The United States could provide only three and one-half divisions of 371,000 men; and of this meager force we have ONLY ONE organized division—a mere "token force" of 113,000 men, doing police duty—in Europe, WHERE WE ARE TRYING TO STOP COMMUNISM WITH DOLLARS.

On land, Russia has us—and all of our prospective allies—outnumbered nearly TWO TO ONE.

Moreover, Russia could put into battle at once 14,000 of its own combat airplanes, plus 3,050 more from its satellites—a total fighting air force of 17,050 planes.

To meet the Red Armada, we would have only 5,100 military planes—LESS THAN A THIRD OF THE COMMUNIST AIR ARMAMENT—including all the planes in Western Europe, Greece and Turkey.

Soviet Russia knows our military weakness as well as Russia knows its own prepared strength.

Who should wonder, then, that Soviet "diplomatists" affront our spokesmen in the United Nations — that Soviet propaganda maligns our costly charities abroad as "imperialism"—that Soviet militarists forbid friendly nations like Czechoslovakia to have normal intercourse with us—and that Soviet "statesmen" prevent the making of a just peace in either Europe or Asia and boastfully predict the abject failure of our altruistic enterprises abroad?

The overwhelming fact is that, because of false pacifism and misguided political lethargy, we are inviting—we are even preparing IRRETRIEVABLE DISASTER for ourselves.

IN A COMMITTEE discussion of the House Foreign Affairs report, Representative Cox of Georgia asked:

"What is to prevent Russia from taking over all Europe in twenty-four hours?"

Representative Eaton, the informed Foreign Affairs chairman, replied:

"Not a thing, not a thing!"

"We might just as well face the fact," Representative Eaton warned, "that Russia proposes to CONQUER THE WORLD by infiltration, by revolution or BY FORCE OF ARMS."

"The world" means US.

We cannot be SAFE in this world unless we MAKE OURSELVES SAFE. We cannot have PEACE for ourselves in this world unless we are PREPARED FOR WAR.

The American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled War Veterans, in co-operation with the Hearst newspapers, are sponsoring a mighty petition of TEN MILLION NAMES calling upon the Congress to enact AT ONCE a Universal Military Training Law.

This petition will be the real "Voice of America" heard 'round the globe.

YOU as a loyal American, want to be a part of it. Sign the petition.

Join the parade to keep America out of more foreign wars and to keep foreign wars out of America.

Give me a thousand kisses and yet more,
And then repeat those that have gone before;
Let us kiss faster than the hours do fly,
Long live each kiss and never know to die.
Yet, if that fade and fly away too fast
Impress another and renew the last.

—PEIRCE.

AUTHOR of above seems to have been quite an osculation enthusiast. Wonder what the record is for number of kisses at one meeting. It's probably held by one of those wonderful Chicago husbands.

GOOD ADVICE: "Write plays—if successful they will keep you financially comfortable in your old age."

That is the advice George Bernard Shaw has often given. Certainly is true as far as he is concerned. Mr. Shaw is now collecting about $4700 weekly from the New York production of "Man and Superman," which play he wrote 44 years ago!

HARRY BALOGH, that unsophisticated rhetorician and persistent purveyor of fancy phraseology concluded his announcement of the Louis-Walcott bout with: "And may the better participant emerge triumphant."

I think Mr. Walcott proved himself the "better participant" but was deprived of his triumph by a bad decision. After the fight Louis' manager unkindly referred to Walcott as "a clown." This recalls when "Slapsy Maxey" Rosenbloom was active as a ringman Joe Louis refused to fight him. Asked why he wouldn't fight Rosenbloom the Brown Bomber said: "When you fight a clown he makes you look like a clown, too."

ETERNAL LIFE: When a young woman of San Francisco asked for a copy of "The Secret of Eternal Life," by Juanita Perez, the bookstore man said: "There's no such book." The young woman replied spiritedly: "Eddie Durling says there is. So there must be." The man said sharply: "Well, then you better ask Eddie where to get it." Ah, a wise guy! A smart cracker! We'll show him. I'll get that book if it is the last thing I do. Then both the young woman and myself can read it and learn the secret of eternal life. So, two hundred years from now she can say: "I am two hundred and twenty-three years old. I know the secret of eternal life. Thanks to Eddie Durling." Somebody may ask: "And what became of Eddie?" And she will say: "Oh, you can find him out at the track after each race at the five-dollar show cashier's window. He used to be a two-dollar bettor but his system clicked so well he has been a five-dollar bettor for the last one hundred and fifty years."

ASKING: Queries from clients. Q—What do you think of making Durocher manager of the Dodgers again? A—Well, major league baseball is now more show business than sport, so from a theatrical standpoint I guess it is all right. Anyway, it doesn't make much difference; what Durocher doesn't know about managing a club Rickey and Shotton will tell him. Q—What is the best way to handle an Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) woman? A—Once again I must point out our Horses & Women experts view astrology with cynicism and skepticism. When they hear of a young man trying to handle a female by astrological guidance our H. and W. experts shake their heads sadly. Aries women are unusually stubborn and battle strongly against domination. Highly intelligent and diplomatic handling by the husband is necessary. However, once properly trained, Aries women make good wives and are affectionate little cusses. Or so say the stargazers.

PASSING BY: Richard Maney. Brilliant theatrical press agent. Most colorful drumthumper of theatrical attractions since the days of A. Toxen Worm. Maney was born in Chinook, Mont., reared in Seattle and came to Broadway the first time with John Cort, Pacific Coast theatrical producer. One of Cort's first productions in Manhattan was the presentation of Laurette Taylor in "Peg O' My Heart"... Arthur Treacher. Whimsical British comedian. Arthur is 6 feet 5 inches tall. What a time he must have had climbing into upper berths when on the road with theatrical companies . . . Johnny McEvoy. Veteran ring arbiter. Has refereed over 39,000 fights. He started in 1903 at the good old Pelican A. C. in Bay Ridge, Brooklyn.

HORSES & WOMEN: "My legs are my best point, why should I wear long skirts?" asks a Californian. Our belief is this subscriber should be content with the lengthy period the California climate permits the wearing of bathing suits and shorts to display her "best points." I am no student of the psychology of style. All I know is women now wearing short skirts do not appear as smart and snappy as those featuring the "new look." The short-skirted women do not seem well dressed.

VERY UNUSUAL: California is in again with something to top. A Norwalk, Cal., subscriber says her mother and her mother-in-law, both 45 years of age, recently gave birth to boy babies on the same day. Both women have been married over 25 years.

RED CAPS: Red Caps at New York city stations are paid 91 cents an hour. The charge of 15 cents per piece of baggage goes to company. Red Cap keeps tips. Am asked if I think this is a fair shake. Would first like to know how many pieces of baggage the average Red Cap carries a day. However, I don't believe anybody but the Red Cap should profit from bag toting.

Hollywood

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 11 (INS)—"Valentino" is on again—very much so, and today Ricardo Montalban and Cyd Charisse were tested, with Director Archie Mayo at the camera.

Cyd Charisse

Eddie Small gave up in despair a few weeks ago when he couldn't find an unknown to play Valentino. I have always been boosting for Montalban and I couldn't be happier that at last he's probably going to play my old friend, Rudy.

Cyd Charisse is the girl in his life, but as in "The Jolson Story," there will be no real names. For instance, although Jean Acker was Rudy's first wife, and Natacha Rambova his second, and Alice Terry was the star who played in his greatest picture, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," all names are altered, excepting, of course, Valentino's.

When I announced that Eddie had called off "Valentino" he received many letters from exhibitors begging him not to cancel his plans.

I CANNOT REMEMBER when a new actress has commanded as much attention as Jean Peters. She justifies all the praise handed her in "Captain From Castile." Yet, I didn't feel that she took anything away from Tyrone Power, who is his old dashing self, and I prophesy the girls will fall in love with him all over again.

With the attention little Miss Peters, from Akron, O., is attracting, Darryl Zanuck is losing no time in finding a picture for her. He has bought "The Heller," a novel by William Henning, for her.

Jean plays something of a delinquent, but she manages to straighten out her life. In other words, it's a sympathetic role.

THE GLENDALE High School girl, Terry Moore, has another lead. Before I tell you about it, let me say to my out-of-Los-Angeles readers, that Glendale is a suburb of L. A., and a rising little town.

Maybe you remember Terry was signed by Harry Cohn to play opposite Glenn Ford in "The Return of October," and apparently she did all right, for now John Ford and Merian Cooper have given her a starring role in "Mr. Joseph Young of Africa."

This is one of a series of several adventure films being brought out by the talented Mr. John Ford for Argosy Productions. The shooting has already started.

BY CRACKY — I never thought it would happen! But here is George Pal, living up to his promise and bringing three unknown beauties to Hollywood to test for the princess in "Adventures of Tom Thumb."

Usually these quests wind up with Ingrid Bergman or Joan Crawford playing the role. But George swore to me he was on the level and apparently he is.

He's footing the bills for Patricia Weaver of Chicago, Dorothy Stevens from Fresno, and Margarita Webb from Portland, to come here for tests. These three blondes, none of whom has had any experience, are the most promising.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: That actress who has been far too conspicuous spouting off her "liberal ideas," got a rude and unexpected shock the other day. A house she had set her heart on buying in Beverly Hills was suddenly taken off the market by the owner, Mrs. Margaret Paddock, wife of the famous polo player.

And Mrs. Paddock doesn't care who knows just WHY she called off the deal.

. . . "I love my home too much to see it pass into the hands of a woman who has so little appreciation for our American way of living."

Hurray for you, Mrs. Paddock.

The attack in the Moscow Literary Guild Magazine against Darryl Zanuck, Louis B. Mayer and this writer, states that San Bernardino is populated by women not younger than 50 and that all motion pictures are previewed there. This has about as much truth as the ideology the Soviets are trying to force down our throats.

I feel complimented that this Russian group blasted me and others who are doing all in our power to fight every phase of Communism.

I think Darryl Zanuck should be complimented on producing "The Iron Curtain," which reveals some of the secrets of Communism, and I am glad that Louis B. Mayer and Warner Brothers are also making pictures showing the insidious manner in which the Communist party works.

I want to go on record right here as saying I consider Barbara Bel Geddes one of the finest young actresses on the screen. I further want to say that in a very short time she will be one of our top young stars.

I asked Dore Schary the name of her next picture. He said it isn't settled yet, but that she and Producer Richard Berger are talking about putting her in "Baltimore Escapade" with Bill Williams.

What I found out myself, and Dore didn't tell me, is that John Cromwell, who directed "Night Song" and many other fine pictures, is the director.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD collected at random: Rhonda Fleming has been seeing Director Tay Garnett often and let me say there isn't a nicer guy in this town than Tay, so if it's a romance, I'm glad for both of them.

Rhonda Fleming

June Haver visits the Morocco Restaurant on Vine st. practically every evening to hear Jimmy Zito's band.

Randy Scott has put in a bid for a trade paper called Hollywood Review.

Ray Hendricks, whose secret marriage to Dorothy Bell was exclusively reported by this writer, has taken his bride to Spokane to introduce her to his family.

The first date Bob Livingston, who ran 92 yards to a touchdown in the Notre Dame-U. S. C. game last Saturday, had was with—guess who? Little Margaret O'Brien! He took her, chaperoned by her aunt, to dinner. Now I know I like Bob.

Paul Lees, the ex-Marine who has only 10 per cent of his eyesight left because of the mistreatment he suffered as a prisoner of the Japs, has been signed by Charlie Brackett and Billy Wilder for a good part in "A Foreign Affair."

People are responding to the appeal for help for the Lou Costello-Bud Abbott Youth Foundation, but the boys are still very much in need of money if this worth-while work is to be continued. So remember and send your check to help stop juvenile delinquency!

Jimmy McHugh is giving a cocktail party for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nelson Sunday afternoon. First time Mrs. Nelson is being introduced here.

Ingrid Bergman goes to Sun Valley Jan. 7 with her husband to stay two weeks.

The former Mrs. Herbert Marshall will spend a quiet New Year's Eve. She will be on a plane headed for New York.

Deanna Durbin at the Chanteclair with her father and mother last night.

Florabel Muir and Denny Morrison also having dinner at Chanteclair. Florabel and I had a talk about the newspaper business now and a few years ago when we were both hustling reporters before becoming lady columnists.

Helmut Dantine with Charlene Wrightsmen at Ciro's. The hand-kissing gent continues to be Charlene's most devoted admirer.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

My Boston

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, THURS., DEC. 11, 1947

By Alan Frazer

PEOPLE ARE SAYING: Gov. Bradford dealt as follows at the Clover Club dinner with that police rumor: "According to the newspapers, I have two new police commissioners, Sinclair Weeks and Mike Kelleher. I am very thankful for the suggestions but just want to say that as long as Tom Sullivan continues to look in as good health as he appears tonight, there's very little chance of anybody succeeding him" . . . In Colonial days Bostonians who visited London were called "codfish aristocrats" by the English . . . Who is the Veterans Administration man who used city-owned land for the overflow from his parking-lot, lost his permit, and got it back again with the help of a man he is now scheming against? . . . Gov. Bradford may be a ninth generation descendant of William Bradford, second governor of the colony; but so is Lt. Gov. Arthur W. Coolidge. The two lines diverged greatly, so you might say Bob and Arthur are more closely related by politics than by blood.

THE NEW manager at the Hotel Lenox is Robert C. Kelly. Soon, a new manager at the Touraine . . . Ralph and Buddy Bonds open tonight at the Fenway, at twin organs. It's the only combination of its kind and they come direct to Boston from Jack Dempsey's in New York. Buddy was organ master at the cathedral in Philadelphia when only 11. For years he was hired for the duPont weddings and played a command performance for President Roosevelt. The next day, he was drafted . . . Ralph was nearly court-martialed twice during the war, for playing "pops" on a chapel organ. Finally he met a French gal on the Spanish border. She invited him into her home where her folks had an organ. Natural outcome, they were married and she'll be in Boston with Ralph.

TALK AROUND TOWN: Dick Aldrich, husband of Gertrude Lawrence, is thinking of bringing the Gate Theater Players over to Boston from Dublin . . . Mark Thompson, the State st. hotel supply man, says the best time to go to Florida is in the spring, because rates are so much lower and daily sunshine can be "practically guaranteed." Mark's going to keep his Pine Crest Lakes Club at Avon Park open till April 15 . . . Dozens of car-owners write direct to Gov. Bradford for those three and four-digit number plates . . . The Somerset management has decided to set the tariff at $10 in the Balinese Room for New Year's Eve. It includes dinner, taxes, noise makers and favors . . . Ray Bolger and Harry Marshard (with his band) played Cushing Veterans' Hospital this week . . . The VFW for the 21st consecutive year will transport Massachusetts veterans home for Christmas from all hospitals in New England and two in New York state.

THE BOSTON BRAVES donated Braves Field free of charge to Tom Dorgan for the benefit game Sunday between the South Boston Chippewas and the Walsh Legion team of Dorchester, in memory of Patrick Mulkerin who was fatally hurt playing for the Walsh team. However, Tom has to meet the cost of the license, $500 . . . Morton Downey's broadcast may be transcribed after the first of the year. If so, Mort will play a Boston engagement, either theater or supper room . . . We understand that Jake Flannery is dead-sure of re-election as city manager by the Lowell city council . . . Sheldon Fairbanks, our big expositioneer, was once the youngest metropolitan city editor (in Cleveland) and introduced miniature golf to Europe. He also owned a pro football team, an experience that increased the sale of aspirin . . . Ice returns to the Oval Room next Wednesday, with Johnny Brett and Carol Lynn, the skating ballerina.

LARRY GREEN'S recording of "Song of New Orleans" is sure to have a big sale down there because the song has been adopted as the official tune of the Mardi Gras . . . Eleanor Early, who writes so entertainingly about "the city that care forgot," says that the official song of the annual revel has always been "If Ever I Cease to Love." It is from a New York burlesque, "Bluebeard," and was adopted in 1872 when Lydia Thompson, who sang it on the stage, was at the Mardi Gras. His Imperial Highness Alexis, brother of the czar of Russia, was also there, and went about humming the tune, which Lydia had taught him. But the rest of the story is that Alexis had dashed off to New Orleans direct from Boston, where he had been regaled with poetic tributes by Whittier, Longfellow, Holmes and Lowell—and had rather a dull time of it. At New Orleans things were different, and Lydia returned to New York with a Tiffany's bracelet of amethysts, emeralds and topaz, given her by His Imperial Highness.

SEEN AND HEARD: Harry Taylor, who stages that Beef Trust Review at Hurley's Log Cabin, has told his girls they must weigh over 200 pounds. And worried them no need what with food prices so high . . . The Brothers of St. John of God dedicate their new monastery and novitiate, Hammond Hall, Gloucester, Sunday. This is the organization that feeds down-and-outers, not on Thanksgiving and Christmas alone, but every day of the week, on Rollins sq., South End. Jim Curley made a donation recently and said he would be pleased if his friends remembered the Brothers . . . Roy Lane of the Music Box was in touch with Larry Henault of Fitchburg within 24 hours after a tracer for Lolly was published in this column . . . John Fenton, all-round Boston newspaperman, has gone with the New York Times, but remains in Boston . . . If you have trouble locating your favorite suburban train at the North Station, it's because two tracks have been set off for Christmas mail-loading entirely.

NATURAL GAS is cheaper than the manufactured product. Tennessee Gas & Transmission Co. has an application with the Federal Power Commission to pipe it from Texas to Boston . . . The Bellevue cocktail lounge has been lighted-up considerably since we mentioned it as being so dark. Darker now are the lounges at the Myles Standish and Lafayette . . . We had discovered who wrote that Yale Whiffenpoof song with which Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill was serenaded: Meade Minnegerode who, as we recall, wrote a thrilling story about Aaron Burr and Madame Jumel . . . "Near You," which this column wrote about on Oct. 6, is still No. 1 on most of the lists.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—James A. Farley has decided to keep out of the race for Vice-President on the Democratic ticket. He is afraid of being trampled to death in the rush.

This is official - no ands, ifs, or buts. For the first time in his life the former chairman of the Democratic national committee has developed a crowd phobia.

The Hon. James incurred this malady as a result of overexposure to other vice-presidential aspirants. For the past three weeks they have been visiting, phoning, telegraphing, sending emissaries, and generally taking up his time to the point where he can hardly find a few minutes to pursue his chosen vocation of peddling soft drinks.

The reason for the wooing is that word has got around that the President is doing quite a bit of Farley wooing himself.

Actually this isn't quite true. On at least 20 occasions in the past two years Mr. Truman has told the Hon. James: "Jim, I'm counting heavily on you for advice," but he has never got around to actually asking for it.

THE WHOLE BUSINESS is kind of amusing, even to Mr. Farley. The President, it is known, wants the benefit of Farley's political experience in what will be the toughest re-election fight a President has ever faced, but the White House advisory clique keeps warning him to lay off.

"Don't bring in Farley," advises the clique. "He's murder to the old New Dealers and we're going to need them. With Farley around we'll alienate all the devotees of F. D. R. If only Jim hadn't decided to turn author!"

But, if Mr. Truman isn't pilgrimaging to Farley for advice—as yet, anyway—those who hope to be his vice-president certainly are.

There are enough vice-presidential aspirants anxious to ride the Democratic donkey to start a rodeo. If you want a partial list you might start with the Congressional directory, eliminating a few odd names here and there such as Taft and Vandenberg. But you can keep in—just as a starter—Secretary of Defense Forrestal, Secretary of Commerce Harriman, about half the Democratic Senators including Brien McMahon of Connecticut, who is making a big play, and—rather coyly—Secretary of the Navy Sullivan.

You can also include Bascom Timmons, right-hand man of Jesse Jones, who always arranges to get one vote every four years so it will give him stature with the nation's cat-lovers. Mr. Timmons, who is as devoted to cats as he is to old Mr. Jesse is forever calling upon the President, various governors, mayors, burgesses and reeves to proclaim a cat week.

MENTION of Navy Sec. Sullivan reminds me of this. The other Sunday night, with everything closed in Washington, Dutch Bergman, the football genius, wanted to contact Mr. Sullivan about a luncheon of the Touchdown Club.

We must have worked a dozen angles, including trying to con the Navy switchboard into giving the private number. Two hours later, after exhausting every avenue we could think of, we called a sidekick of Mr. Sullivan known as Sen. McMeatball.

"I've got a suggestion," sarcasmed the latter. "Look in the telephone book."

We did. The number was there. And the Secretary of the Navy answered the phone himself.

JVA Concentrates On Fats Salvage

During this new fat drive, patriotic youths of the Junior Victory Army are concentrating on the salvage of fats and greases. Every pound of waste fats and oils are being turned in to their neighborhood butcher.

If the fat is delivered in proper containers, butchers will pay for the material. You are urged to keep the fats and greases in clean metal containers that have no ragged edges. Narrow necked or glass containers should not be used.

All the fats and oils obtained by the American soap manufacturers have been turned into soap just as quickly as possible. More than one of every nine packages of soap sold last year was made from used fats saved in Americans' kitchens.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and address to the Junior Victory Army, P. O. Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin, well-wrapped in your letter.

these heavenly, money-saving
COOKED SHOULDERS!
At Stop & Shop you'll find these wonderful, WONDERFUL cooked shoulders!
There's less waste to these. The short shank and close trimming means more meat—less bone. And there's no cooking shrinkage! Remember you pay 49c or more a pound for ordinary shoulders—you then stand to lose up to one-third of the weight when you cook it. And you do have to cook a plain shoulder. But not these Stop & Shop COOKED shoulders—they're ready for action when you buy them!... While they last... 5 to 7 Pound Average.
For dinner, bake one of these pink beauties—10 minutes for each pound—it's the way to bring out their exceptionally fine flavor.
To glaze, remove shoulder from oven ½ hour before done. Spread with prepared mustard and brown sugar. (For variety, try basting shoulder with either cider, honey, maple syrup, or pineapple syrup.) If you wish, insert whole cloves in rows. Return shoulder to oven for about ½ hour, or until browned and glazed. Result—a beautiful and delicious baked shoulder that would ordinarily take many long hours of work.

Communist Cheers Clinch War Hero's Pledge of Loyalty

By DAVID SENTNER
Boston American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—A young war hero, an employe of the Veterans Administration, has seen the light.

Reversing his previous refusal to sign the loyalty pledge, Walter E. Davis, 22, used his good hand to put his signature on the required loyalty questionnaire.

Davis, whose left hand was amputated after he was wounded in France, became convinced Communists were attempting to make capital of him.

A visit from a Communist front representative who promised he would stage a rally for him which would draw 15,000 spectators settled the matter.

The disabled World War II veteran talked things over with Veterans of Foreign Wars officials and issued the following statement:

"I felt at the time I was asked to sign the pledge as a federal employe, and I still feel, that the loyalty of anyone who fought and bled for his country should not be questioned.

"However, I was unaware of the forces at work to undermine our form of government. In no other way could I, just a plain Joe, have seen how quickly the enemies within our gates could attempt to use me as a tool to agitate and cause unrest.

"It is with pleasure that I now welcome the opportunity to sign the loyalty pledge and do anything else that may root out of our federal government and make known to our people any among us who are disloyal."

Davis indicated that, having signed the loyalty pledge, he may resign shortly from the Veterans Administration job.

LONDON, Dec. 11 (INS)—Reuters reported from Tehran that Iranian Premier Ahmed Ghavam has failed to get a vote of confidence from Parliament. The dispatch added that according to procedure, Ghavam must now resign.

Judge Gives Homeless Lad Chance to Start Life Anew

Because a kindly judge took an interest in him, a 13-year-old Charlestown boy got a fresh start in life today and was under consideration for admission to Fr. Flanagan's famed Boys' Town.

The lad, a city ward since his mother died seven years ago and his father drifted away, was recommended for committal to Fernald School as a feeble minded case until Judge John V. Mahoney in Suffolk Probate court balked at signing the committal papers.

The judge talked with the boy, who had completed only the third grade in school and had run away from two institutions and a foster home, and was impressed by the waif's intelligence and bearing.

He held up the case for further deliberation a week ago, and then appointed Judge David G. Nagle of South Boston court to check the boy's background and determine what could be done for him.

Sympathetic New Englanders have sent offers of money and assistance to the court, and Attilio P. Santisi of Beverly sent newspaper clippings and a letter to Fr. Flanagan at Boys' Town, asking what he can do to get the boy sent to him.

Dying Boy Gets Glimpse of Santa

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Dec. 11 (INS)—A motorcycle escort roared downtown to convoy an ambulance from a hospital to a department store.

At the store, a group of patrolmen cleared a path to a window display of a mammoth laughing Santa Claus—then stood back, while Billy Faraldo, 7, smiled and watched the laughing giant for perhaps the last time.

Billy, on his way home from the hospital with a hopeless case of rheumatic fever, is not expected to live until Christmas.

Smart Set Plan Trips South

By BETTY ALDEN

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES and plans for southern trips after New Year's were top conversational topics when old friends got together during intermission at yesterday's Morning Musicale at the Hotel Statler.

Mrs. Charles T. Gilbert reversed the order by returning to her committee duties after a long sojourn in Hawaii, but Mrs. Robert Cushman of Beacon Hill and Mrs. Russell T. Williams of Needham were talking about their forthcoming trips, the former to Guatemala and Mrs. Williams to Florida. Mrs. Robert Craig Campbell of Chestnut Hill, gay in a royal blue wool dress and leopard fur hat, said she and her husband are moving to Syracuse this week and will celebrate the holidays in their new home there.

Joan Perrin

Marian Anderson was guest artist. The program noted that the great contralto is now a New Englander, though a native of Philadelphia. She and her architect husband reside on a lovely old farm in Connecticut.

Glimpsed in her enthusiastic audience were Mrs. Godfrey Robinson, Mrs. Francis W. Bird chatting with Mrs. Arthur Bell and Mrs. Robert Stephenson, who had their usual seats together; Mrs. Converse Hill, a new subscriber from Lexington; Mrs. Parker Hayden, Mrs. Walter M. Pratt in the most intriguing hat of the day, a black velvet bonnet type with fuchsia feathers; Mrs. Edward D. Hobbs, Mrs. Frederic W. Mattheis and Mrs. William E. Barrett, 3d, a recent bride and daughter-in-law of a committee member.

Four officers of the senior class at Boston School of Occupational Therapy who will graduate Saturday, were among the ushers. They were Joanne Crosby, Margaret Lothrop, Joan Perrin and Barbara Ricker. Their classmates were all guests at the concert. The Musicales benefit the school.

Lunching in the Statler Terrace Room after the program were Mrs. Charles Donovan, Mrs. Homer Livermore with her daughter, Joan, and the latter's chum, Mrs. Percival Gilbert Jr., and many other Musicales subscribers.

THE 100TH annual Hasty Pudding show opened last evening at the Pudding clubhouse in Cambridge. As usual the production abounds with catchy tunes and clever lyrics, written by the same talented trio that authored last year's "Speak for Yourself," Craig Gilbert of New York, Bill Scudder of Dedham and Courtney Crandall of Arlington. Families and friends of the cast packed the house and roared with laughter at the antics of stalwart football heroes impersonating dainty chorines with blonde curls and high heeled dancing slippers.

Patronesses of the production include Mrs. Harrison Gardner, Mrs. Philip L. Spalding, Mrs. Richard K. Thorndike, Mrs. Henry R. Guild, Mrs. Henry W. Harris, Mrs. Francis W. Hatch, Mrs. Harcourt Amory, Mrs. Frank G. Allen, Mrs. Walter E. Robb, Jr., Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall, Mrs. R. Minturn Sedgwick, Mrs. Arthur M. Beal, Mrs. Marcus Beebe, Mrs. John L. Motley, Mrs. Charles C. Peabody and Mrs. J. Hampden Robb.

ROUND AND ABOUT: Dec. 18 is the date of the Boston Architectural Center's lecture by designer William Pahlmann and not this evening as we reported previously. With only 11 more shopping days till you-know-what, Mrs. Charles H. Matz and Mrs. Andrew N. Winslow were among shoppers we glimpsed in the throngs. The former was looking at some fine china and the latter antiques.

Boston Bryn Mawr Club will present Miss Eunice Avery tomorrow morning at the Copley Plaza in another of its series of current events lectures. She will talk about Britain. Mrs. Bailey Aldrich, Mrs. George R. Blodget, Mrs. Francis P. Magoun, Jr., Mrs. Philip Sharples, Mrs. Alexander Whiteside and Mrs. Alfred Donovan are in charge.

Surgeon General Praises 4-F Story

The harmful 4-F label pinned on some 5,000,000 Americans was intended to serve as an administrative device and not a medical diagnosis, as some persons believe.

So states Maj. Gen. R. W. Bliss, the Army's surgeon general, in a letter praising the article, "The Stigma Is Lifted From the 4-Fs," which will be featured in Sunday's American Weekly, magazine issued with the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Another outstanding American Weekly feature for Sunday will be "Million-Dollar Surprise," the inside story of fruit pedlar John Deferrari's million-dollar gift to the Boston Public Library.

Smooth Makeup Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

YOUNGER WOMEN, immature in their beauty thinking, who slap heavy coverage over their young and tender skin, may be excused on the grounds of youth. When one is young, we suppose she has a right to be foolish . . . even in the ways of beauty. But no older girl should be that oblivious to consequences as to sacrifice skin texture for a temporary illusion.

It is understandable why cake makeup has had such an overwhelming success . . . why it has swept the country and swept the faces of American women in fabulous thousands . . . why it outranks any other type of facial foundation in volume sales.

Many products of this type do cover a multitude of facial sins . . . inducing a smooth, insinuating and mat-like finish without damaging the skin that receives it. But there are other cake makeups which do NOT bless but "burn" . . . and skin texture pays the supreme penalty.

Because it was obvious to a noted beauty house that the cake makeup foundation was a receptive beauty aid to millions of American women unwilling to part with its illusory camouflage . . . they set out on an intensive research of this type product. Connected with their vast cosmetic enterprises . . . this company sponsors an institute of dermatological research where both laboratory and clinical findings are tabulated for the good of the entire cosmetic industry.

DIFFERENT FORMULA

Now after months of intensive research . . . their scientific laboratories announce a new and different cake makeup formula . . . different because it gives the skin smooth makeup beauty without that "drying" or "mask-like" effect frequently criticized in products of this type. Compounded of the purest ingredients . . . it seems to be the answer to those who have tried the "old-style" formulas on the market . . . and found them unsatisfactory or wanting in many ways.

And because it is non-drying . . . it is good for all types of skin. It blends just as smoothly on dry skins as on normal or city complexions . . . test trials proved. And sleek, smooth appearance lasts almost indefinitely. The skin is filmed with a light silkiness to which powder clings softly and nicely for a look of natural niceness.

We like it immensely . . . and so did the several other gals who tried it for us. Virtually a solid cream cake, it smooths over the face and throat. For that flawless look . . . this is the way we urge you to try it: dampen a pad of cotton generously with skin freshener (water will do but we prefer skin freshener for a two-in-one goodness) and rub it firmly over the cake. Stroke on the makeup quickly. When almost dry . . . blend upward and outward with fingertips. Blot excess moisture with tissues. Then apply powder.

For a new facial look . . . look to this new hot-off-the-cosmetic-griddle . . . cake foundation.

For the name of this new complexion cake makeup, in six shades, phone the Beauty Dept., LIberty 2-4000, daily except Sunday, or write me, care of the Boston American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

EVERYTHING is new this year . . . the look in clothes . . . the look in beauty. Now comes the new look in a brand new cake makeup, formulated after months of intensive research in the scientific laboratories of one of the greatest names in the beauty world . . . an improved version on "old-style" formulas because it is not drying nor masklike in complexion intent.

Tinting Faded Garments Brings Out 'Fresh Look'

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

MORE IMPORTANT than the "new look" any day is the "fresh look," whether applied to your wardrobe or your home. A drab, faded garment is as depressing to the wearer as it is to those who observe her. And, likewise, dingy, faded household accessories do much to give a depressing atmosphere to the home.

But it isn't always possible to replenish your wardrobe, or to go on an interior decorating spree when the mood overtakes you. Had you thought of tinting those faded or odd stockings to the latest dark shades; of changing the color of that perfectly good dress that showed a faded hemline when you lengthened it this fall; or of bringing a glowing, rich color to those shabby drapes or slip-covers in your living room?

There's a new, improved way to tint and dye at home, you know—with a magic "tint on a paddle." No more stained hands, no hunting around for a suitable stick to stir the dye. This new all-in-one method is easy, pleasant and economical. Here it is:

The magic paddle consists of a 6-inch wood stick, impregnated with dye, and the color clings to about three-quarters of the length of the stick. All you need to do is stir it around in a small quantity of boiling water until you see a color several shades darker than the one you want. Add this colored water to enough warm water to cover the piece you wish to tint. When the piece is the desired shade, lift it out, rinse in cold water and let dry. The paddle can be dried, and used over and over until all the dye is gone.

WASHING FINE WOOLENS

Woolens are precious and good quality woolens come nigh in price, so it behooves us to take the best possible care of the fleecy garments we have, and to always keep them "fresh" and clean. Sweaters, woolen socks and woolen undergarments are standard articles of clothing in most households and they deserve the most careful washing methods known. Many lovely garments have been damaged beyond repair by careless washing.

Just introduced in this country is a new liquid wool wash compound which can be used safely on the finest woolens. It was invented before the war by a group of French scientists and used successfully in France until its fine ingredients became wartime casualties. Shrinkage is the great enemy of fine wools and this washing compound eliminates the three principal causes of shrinkage—rubbing, alkalis and hot water.

Using this compound is simple indeed—you merely add a teaspoonful of the liquid to each quart of tepid water (never hot water); soak the soiled garment for a few minutes, squeeze gently, rinse and dry. Of course you dry sweaters and socks on forms, or pull them easily back to shape and dry flat, whichever method of drying you are in the habit of using. Never hang knitted garments.

We know you'd like to know the name of these two interesting products, and if you will write to Martha Lee, Record-American, Boston 6, Mass., we shall be glad to send you the information.

PRINTS are scheduled for the greatest prominence of their fashion life this spring . . alone or in combination with solid colors. No wardrobe will be complete without a print. And it could be this winning two-piecer by William Bass . . . patterned after fashion's edict with full skirt and hipped-waisted jacket. The fitted jacket-top of black-white-and-aqua crepe, which also borders the black faille collars and cuffs, smooths into a swirling black faille skirt for a dress that goes south or stays north under furs.—R. M.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

CURFEW HOUR? Why do so many teen-age boys and girls hate to admit they must be in at a certain time? There is no reason why a girl shouldn't say, "I told Mother I'd be home before 12 so we'll have to leave now."

Pretty for Office Wear

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

AN OFFICE is a place of business. Everything in the office is geared to that end. Clothes for office wear should be chosen with this in mind.

They should be neither too dressy nor too drab. Either extreme is wrong. The slinky, lacy dress is as bad as the careless, uninteresting dress. The clothes you wear to work should be as pretty and attractive as possible, comfortable, but not too startling in any way. The perfect secretary doesn't make a fetish any more of the plain black dress with its touch of white at neck and wrists. She wears suits and dresses that are in good taste and good taste is always quietly charming.

She loves suits and simple dresses. She likes color, too, but she uses it in understatement. Her shoes are well-made and kept in good repair. She wears jewelry but not too much of it. She looks as cheerful as a person who has just been given an unexpected pay raise—and looking so charming, maybe her boss will be inspired to raise her salary.

Have Many Friends

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am married, but separated from my husband. He is in the service, but I was separated from him before he went in.

The girl friend that I have been going around with is single, and I have stopped going with her because I thought people would talk. Would you tell me if it is a bad thing for a married girl to go around with a single girl?

"CORKY".

DEAR "CORKY:"

There is nothing wrong with your going around with a girl friend who is single, and there is no reason why people should talk unless you give them reason to do so.

Of course it would be foolish for you to devote yourself exclusively to any one friend. This is never a good idea under any circumstances, as it limits your social contacts and deprives you of the opportunity to make all the friends that every person ought to have. Everybody has a "best friend," and if this girl is your best friend, that is all right. But have a lot of others, too.

Siamese Twins Not to Be Parted

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 11 (AP)—Dr. Donald Casey, director of the Indiana University Medical Center here, said today the Bedford Siamese twin boys are past the critical stage and no separation will be attempted unless one appears to be dying.

The twins, 11-day-old sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Speer, are joind at the tops of their skulls by a bony structure three inches in diameter.

"They are united firmly and the joint is not flexible," Dr. Casey said. "Theoretically, the only way they could ever walk would be with one twin supported upside down on the head of the other."

20th Century-Fox Lists 48 Features

Forty-eight feature films including 18 from independent producers, most ambitious program of pictures in 20th Century-Fox' history, will be released by the company next year.

Two of the company's three top budget pictures, "Gentleman's Agreement" and "Captain from Castile" are slated for showing on local screens next month. The third, "Forever Amber," has only recently departed from the Modern screen.

Of the total product, 10 will be in Technicolor . . . seven to come from the Fox studio and three from Sir Alexander Korda's London studio.

Edward X. Callahan, northeast district manager, in announcing the 1948 release schedule, pointed out his company's strength in top boxoffice personalities. These include Tyrone Power, Betty Grable, Dana Andrews, Cornel Wilde, Gene Tierney, Olivia de Havilland, Anne Baxter, Linda Darnell, Henry Fonda, Jennifer Jones, James Stewart, Joan Crawford, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Gregory Peck, Paulette Goddard and John Garfield.

Joseph Cifre Heads Variety Club Here

Joseph Cifre was unanimously voted into office as chief barker for 1948 of the Variety Club, Tent No. 23, of New England, at yesterday's annual election.

Others elected include Harold Stoneman, first assistant barker; Louis Gordon, second assistant barker; James Marshall, dough guy; John Dervin, property master, and Murray Weiss, national canvassman.

LESLIE BANKS, in the coveted role of chorus in Laurence Olivier's superb production of "Henry V," follows in the footsteps of the great David Garrick. The special Academy Award film is now in its final two weeks at the Kenmore.

Quits Hollywood For New Play Role

Esther Dale and Russell Hardie, featured in "Harvest of Years," the new play by DeWitt Bodeen which Arthur J. Beckhard will present at the Colonial Theater the night after Christmas, Dec. 26, are old Hollywood friends.

They first met some years ago when both appeared in the same movie, "In Old Kentucky." Miss Dale remained in Hollywood. Hardie returned to the Broadway stage. Now Miss Dale is again Broadway-bound.

Man Who Refuses To Kick Fortune In the Britches

By AUSTEN LAKE

A MULTICOLORED BROCHURE in the day's mail contains the hawk-like puss of Al Schacht and states in bold faced type, "Baseball's paramount ribsplitter, that hilariously happy hoodlum, is now booking 1948 dates. Let him turn your flop into a fortune. Apply early for this super gate attraction. He is offering a new, red hot assortment of antics., etc, etc."

Eleven years ago when Tom Yawkey's dult Fauntleroys were reshuffling their roster, Schacht received a little notice that the Red Sox "regretfully dispense with your further service." Al didn't brood! He had a little bank balance, but not much. He had a flashy wardrobe and a lot of comic property gadgets, like a red lapelled frock coat and a battered top hat. So he went in busines for himself.

In the interval since 1936 the "one man circus" says he has grossed above $250,000. He owns a furnishing restaurant in New York's roaring forties and lasyear he paid a quarter million for an apartment building. The luckiest thing that ever happened," he told me recently, "was when Yawkey gave me the bum's bounce. Maybe I'll never be as rich as Tom, but you'll never find me in a up kitchen."

SO TODAY WHILE COMMISSIONER Happy Chandler is having a bicker with Washington's Clark Griffith and the major league moguls are doing their Chrismas shopping, Al pens a message of optimism. He looks fonard, he says to "an astounding renaissance everywhere in the minor leagues" and "gives fervent thanks to night baseball," adding that "he hasn't played a single matinee in five years" except for World Series appearances.

"Give the minors two more years," he writes, "and there'll be no paucity of young material (Ed. note—Like the late Rudyard Kipling Al goes to the museum for his words). The magic of the Mazdas has brought back baseball permanently in such in-and-out towns as Svannah, Ga., where they drew 250,000 in 1947 under the incandescents."

Al used to drive his own silver plated Pakard between jumps, but after a harrowing experience some years ago, hired himself a burly, big-knuckled chauffeur, both for company and protection. He was motoring downa lonely road when he paused to pick up a pair of dungared thumbers. "They looked like a couple of busted-down swamp billies," said Al, "so partly from the warmth of my big heart and partly because I was lost anyway and needed directions, I gave 'em a lift."

After a few miles one of the tatterdemalions nudged a gun against Al's ribs and told him to drive into a clump of woods. "Sorry, mister," said the man, "but we need it and you got it." Under the nozzle of the roscoe Alhanded over a wallet containing several hundred dollars. Then suddenly he thought! No money, no gasoline, no means of travelling the rest of his journey. "How about a refund of ten bucks for fuel," he asked. "Sure mister," said the older raggety, fishing a sawbuck from the purse and handing it over. "We want to treat yuh generous. You been right kind to us."

Later Al employed an ex-derelict that he picked up in a Mid-West ball park, a barnacled gent who carried his entire wardrobe on his back and who perambulated Al on his petrol pilgrimages for a paltry $25 a week, bed, board and cigarets. He drove while Al perused the early editions to see what the critics had to say about his performance, then Al would take the helm and press down the throttle to the running board—for his mania for speed is almost pyschopathic.

"I BEEN PINCHED BY OVER 300 cops during my tours," Al told me with pardonable pride, "and I only paid half a dozen fines—I bought the rest off with autographs."

The ex-derelict came a cropper one day in Syracuse when a process server who had been chasing Al for weeks, or ever since he accidentally beaned a spectator with a wild pitch in Elmira, called on the phone. Al's stooge answered. "Sure," said Al's gentleman's gentleman, "you say you got a paper for the boss. Come right up."

A knock sounded on the door and Al found a summons thrust into his hand and the terse admonition, "Be in court tomorrow at nine sharp and don't miss."

"Goe, boss," apologized the chauffeur, "I thought he had a newspaper for yuh."

That evening in the "hilarious, stupendous and convulsing comic act" (Ed. note—The quotes are from Al's advertising) the chauffeur, who also doubled as Al's shill and, in the grand finale was supposed to douse a bucket of water over Schacht's head, let the utensil slip and fractured the "king of the cuckoo's" prominent proboscis (Ed. note—All right then, "nose").

"I bled like I was stabbed," relates Al, "but the crowd laughed themselves into hysterics, thinking it was a novelty gag in which I busted a sack of razzberry jam over my puss. So I fired the guy forthwith." (Ed. note—Forth with what, Al?)

Schacht says he could quit the clowning any day now, what with his thriving gobble and gargle business. "I sell over a quarter million filly minions," he says, "and as many crustaceans." But with native caution he refuses to orphan around $25,000 a year by retiring. Al says, "I'm not the guy to kick good fortune in the pants." And that he is not!

Veeck Cries 'Nepotism' As Spence Goes to Sox

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (INS)—Charges of "nepotism" were leveled at Washington's Clark Griffith today by Bill Veeck, Cleveland president, in the wake of the deal which sent outfielder Stan Spence to the Boston Red Sox. Other American Leaguers condemned the deal because they felt it gave the Sox a practical strangle-hold on the 1948 pennant.

Meantime, it was Veeck's claim that the grandfatherly Griffith had accepted Boston's bid as a favor to son-in-law Joe Cronin, recently elevated to the general managership of the Red Sox. Said Veeck, indignantly:

"I've tried for two years to get Spence, offering Griffith far better value than he received from the Red Sox.

"He knew he had only to ask, and I would gladly repeat those offers, perhaps better them. Instead, he trades an established star for an untried minor leaguer and a second player whose 'market" is certainly bearish."

Veeck referred to infielder Al Kozar, last season with New Orleans in the Southern Association, and utility man Leon Culberson who hit only .238 for the Red Sox.

Spence, down to .279 this year, has twice hit well over .300 since breaking into the majors in 1940.

Topping Still Irate Over Browns-Sox Deal

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Skipper Joe McCarthy and General Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox fiddled today while the rest of the American League burned.

Those at the boiling point include Bill Veeck, Cleveland Indians; Dan Topping, Yankee head, and Billy Evans, Detroit—all of whom confessed they were getting tired of seeing the Red Sox grab big name players right from under their noses.

Topping, who has been trying to land another starting pitcher with little success thus far, is still boiling mad over the way he was treated by the Browns in the Stephens-Kramer matter.

"We never even had a chance to bid for them," he said. "The Browns knew we were in the market for Stephens and Kramer, but accepted the Red Sox offer without even asking us to better the figure."

Evans, still moaning over losing out in the bidding for second baseman Johnny Berardino whom the Browns traded to Cleveland Monday night, said he would have made a bid for Spence if given an opportunity.

"We offered $50,000 and three players for Berardino, but the Browns sent him to the Indians for less money and only one player," he complained. "Now we are not even given a chance to bid for a player who could help us."

Charles De Witt, secretary of the Browns, denied that the Browns ever received such an offer from Detroit, claiming that the only offer made by Evans was a cash outlay of $80,000 for Berardino.

In the meantime the Red Sox were sitting in the driver's seat as far as the American League pennant race for 1948 was concerned.

McCarthy said he probably would alternate the 32-year-old Spence with Sam Mele, rookie sensation of 1947, in right field.

U. S. Olympic Skiers Elect Captains at Sea

Miss Phoebe Hearst and George Hearst, Jr., twin grandchildren of William Randolph Hearst, are on route with the U. S. Olympic ski team to Switzerland where they will attend and write about the winter sports classic.

By PHOEBE HEARST AND GEORGE HEARST, JR.
Special to Boston American

ABOARD SS AMERICA AT SEA, Dec. 11—The U. S. Olympic ski teams selected their captains today as they turned this Transatlantic liner into a floating gymnasium en route to the Winter Olympic Games in Switzerland.

The following were picked:

Corey Engen, of Ogden, Utah, captain of the men's jumping and cross country team.

As for this liner, the SS America has the "new look."

It is no longer chic to lounge in a deck chair when the athletes are setting the pace by countless laps around the deck at top speed.

The heretofore uninhabited ship's gymnasium is groaning with activity. Health is rampant.

The 22 men and eight young women of the U. S. ski teams, as well as their coaches and managers, are proving themselves splendid sailors.

Wings Locked With Bruins

By the Associated Press

The tail-end Chicago Blackhawks are having something to say about the top of the National Hockey League standings these days.

The Hawks were responsible for keeping the Bruins and the Red Wings in their deadlock for second place by edging the Bruins 6-5 at Chicago last night. The Wings got nowhere in their attempt to break out of the runner-up stalemate when they were tied 2-2 by league-leading Toronto.

That leaves Toronto a fat five points ahead of Boston and Detroit.

3 GAMES IN 3 NIGHTS FOR BUSY OLYMPICS

Three games in as many nights are on tap for Coach Hugo Harrington and his Boston Olympics.

Starting tomorrow night at Atlantic City, the Pics are in for another busy week-end. After the Sea Gulls' game, the O's return to the Hub for their two other games.

Saturday night, they will be at the Garden to play host to the highly-touted Ottawa Senators in a Quebec Senior Hockey League game, and in a Sunday matinee, starting at 2:45 o'clock, the Pics wind up their busy schedule with a return Eastern League contest with Mel Harwood's Atlantic City six at the Garden.

The Ottawa meeting is an important one, not so much from the Pics' angle but for the other side of the border team. The Senators are deadlocked with Shawinigan Falls for the top of the Quebec League and the Olympics are set to knock them from their lofty perch.

Jackets for All-Scholastic Team

By BOB WALDO

As has been the case in previous years, members of the Boston Evening American Official All-Scholastic football team will be awarded jackets from the James W. Brine Sporting Goods Co. In the meantime, final details of the team, as selected by the Board of Coaches, are being cleared up before being made public this Saturday. Officials of Boston's leading sporting goods store recognize this team as Eastern Massachusetts' best in schoolboy ranks, and wish to acknowledge the ability of these boys by presenting them with tailored jackets.

The jackets will have the insignia of the Boston American Official All-Scholastic team over the breast pocket.

Final selections for the team, made recently by the 10 members of the Board, covers a radius of about 25 miles and represent the finest talent in this section.

The coaches who make up the selection board annually witness nearly every school and every player during the course of the year through scrimmages, games, scouting, etc. No group was ever more able to judge the capabilities of gridsters.

These men are football enthusiasts as well as coaches and seldom overlook a player who shows ability. They are in contact with each other continually and make it a point to discuss the abilities of outstanding performers.

Their decisions are unbiased and made in the spirit of the game. They realize that the future success or failure of these boys will reflect on their abilities as judges of football material.

The team will be printed in all editions of this newspaper next SATURDAY.

Danvers Plans Turkey Shoot; Beaglers Grow

The Danvers Fish and Game Club meeting tonight, at the Masonic Temple, will be featured by the appearance of Percy A. Brigham, outdoor lecturer, who will present his color films of hunting and fishing in the Canadian Rockies. Plans will also be made at the gathering for impending turkey shoots at the rifle range.

During the past year, it was estimated that each member of the Danvers outfit caught 25 trout in the private pool, keeping 11 fish, and wetting lines 18 times, for an average. The pool is in good shape for next spring's sport. The banks and edges have been cleared of brush and small trees, and the overflow dam has been strengthened.

At a recent meeting of the Essex County Beagle Ass'n, it was announced that this organization will spend at least $1000 on pheasants and rabbits, which will be released next season.

Medford's Foe In 'Gator Bowl Rated Favorite

By MIKE GILLOOLY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 11 — Slipping into town as silently as Santa Claus coming down the chimney, the Medford High School Mustangs quietly assumed their respective places in the Mayflower Hotel here today, entirely on their own until they move into the "Gator Bowl" tonight for their first trial run under the floodlights of the spacious football arena.

But while the Mustangs were noislessly intruding the slow southern life, they were being definitely quoted as the underdog in their meeting with the Robert E. Lee eleven tomorrow night.

As early as their stop at the University of South Carolina, they were forewarned that any team which was the champion of Jacksonville must be a terrific club. Lee not only was the titlist in its home town but the champion of the peninsula state by virtue of its 7-0 victory over Miami.

Coach Rex Enright ("remember me to Tom O'Donnell at Newburyport High School") related of the heavyweight line of the host club; of their powerful offensive; of the midget comparison offered as he viewed the Medford club in their workout in the rains of the hospitable southern college. They offered all of their facilities—as well as their condolences, prematurely.

The invitation to the "Gator Bowl," hurriedly accepted, has developed into a tremendous headache for the coaching staff of the Mustangs. They've bumped into obstacles that may prove unsurmountable for the Eastern State champions—the third Bay State club seeking a victory in Florida in as many years, following on the heels of Salem (7-6 over Miami) and Lynn Classical (21-14 over Granby of Norfolk, Va.)

Defenses had to be set up for the strange, short kick formation of the generals. Officials had to be contended with (they had all been named earlier by the Southern authorities). The usual injuries and sicknesses had to be coped with on the double stop journey through the land of tobacco roads.

It was no wonder that southern publicists in Jacksonville readily quoted the generals as "the best team in this city in the past 15 years." They're looking forward to a decisive triumph in a token vengeance.

Coach Tom O'Connor virtually settled his starting lineup after the combined indoor-outdoor workout at Columbia. It was definitely decided that the busting Gino Pagliuica would start in the backfield with Tom Kelly, Ed Field and Dick Lawrence behind a line of ends Chick Bridges, and Charlie Bowles; tackles Howie Weitz and Ken Kinchla; guards Gerry Dente and Patsy Zona and center Dick Murphy.

It was the identical group that started against Malden in the Thanksgiving Day objective

ICE CAPADES DEC. 26

When the "Ice Capades of 1948" opens its annual stand at the Boston Garden on Dec. 26, one of the features of this ice spectacle will again be the "Old Smoothies."

This comes as no shock to the many New Englanders who have witnessed this popular show since its inception in 1939. Orrin Markhus and Irma Thomas, billed as the "Old Smoothies," have been stealing the spotlight year after year and this coming show is no exception.

McCarthy, Cronin Get Along Together Like Ham and Eggs

By JACK CONWAY

JOE McCARTHY and Joe Cronin are proving one of the smartest combinations in baseball in putting through deals that should prove beneficial to the Red Sox. Acquisition of Stanley Spence from the Senators in return for Leon Culberson and Al Kozar will give the Sox a hard-hitting right fielder. The Williams-DiMaggio-Spence combination should be one of the great outfields of 1948.

Joe McCarthy

Joe Cronin

Spence batted for .279 last year. It was his hitting that won the AllStar game for the American League. Spence has batted for close to .300 since he was traded to Washington by the Red Sox. It is a certainty he will be pleased to return to the Sox in their new championship setting.

McCarthy and Cronin recently plugged up the gap at third base when they got Vernon Stephens from the Browns, while Jack Kramer, who came to the Sox in the same deal, and Ellis Kinder, will give the club needed help in the pitcher's box. Weak pitching was one of the reasons why the Yawkeys failed last season.

It is the general belief in baseball circles that the Sox will be favorites to win the American League pennant in 1948. Phil Rizzuto and Joe DiMaggio of the Yanks, who were in New York last week, have taken recognition of the new strength acquired by the Sox.

"The Red Sox are the team the Yanks will have to beat to win the 1948 pennant," said Rizzuto.

"Joe McCarthy is one of the greatest managers baseball has known," declared DiMaggio, "and you may be sure the Sox will be in there shooting for the pennant from the opening game."

IT IS EXPECTED that McCarthy will give first base some thought now that he has strengthened the Sox in right field and at third base. Murrel (Jake) Jones, procured from the White Sox for Rudy York, batted in 96 runs which was only 18 behind Ted Williams' 114. Jones, right handed, is a long ball hitter, and did his most effective hitting at Fenway Park.

Jones does not do as well on the road where most of the ball parks have been built for left handed hitters. Left fielders play deep for Jones, and they pull down most of his long drives. It would be a happy combination if McCarthy could find a left handed power hitter he could use on road trips, and who could belt in as many runs as Jones does at Fenway Park.

McCarthy has been given full power to make any deals he wishes. Joe has kept close to baseball since he retired as manager of the Yanks, and he certainly has not made any mistakes in the efforts to strengthen the Sox.

BEN LEVIAS, back home after attending the A. A. U. convention, says the 1948 program assures Boston of the national amateur boxing championships in April and the Olympic tryouts in July. Levias says President Rhodes of the A. A. U. will come here for the boxing championships. The 37-year-old mayor of Columbus, O., has "Tam" Sheehan of Dorchester as his first vice-president.

Levias says plans are also under way for a team of amateur boxers from New England to make a trip to Hawaii in June.

JOHNNY GRECO, Montreal welterweight, will give Ralph Zanelli his hardest ring test when they clash in a 10-round bout at a Goodwin A. C. show at the Garden on Monday night. The aggressive, free-hitting Greco gained international ring fame by his long run of victories over top opposition in New York rings. If Zanelli should win from Greco, he will be in line for New York matches.

Sadowski-Fulks Duel Draws Local Interest

By FRED HOEY

When Big Ed Sadowski of the Celtics matches basketball skill with Joe Fulks of the Philadelphia Warriors in the pro league game at the Boston Garden tomorrow night one of the keenest battles of the season should develop.

By annexing 25 points last night as the Celtics were losing 79-75 to the New York Knickerbockers, Sadowski again went into the league's scoring lead. Going into last night's game Big Ed trailed Fulks by two points. By grabbing 25 points, via six baskets and 13 fouls, Sadowski's total reached 240 to put him far ahead of his Philly rival. But it is well to remember that Fulks has played three games less which is a distinct advantage to him in his second quest for league scoring honors.

Last night's battle was a ding-dong affair. New York led at half time 35-30 and at the end of the third period 55-54.

While the crowd of 3209 were intensely interested in Sadowski's scoring effort they fully appreciated the spectacular work of Connie Simmons of the Celtics.

Jay to Take Color Photos Of Winter Olympic Games

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

It's certain that every skier in New England—and America—would like to watch the Olympic Winter Games, at St. Moritz, Switzerland, which run from Jan. 30 to Feb. 8, 1948—but the elements of time, costs, and distance will prevent most of us from being on hand. However, we will all be able to view some excellent color films of the stirring ski events next year, for John Jay, world-famous skiing photographer and author, of Norfolk, Ct., will fly to Europe and cover the contests next month.

John, with whom we served in the Mountain Troops, at Camp Hale, Col., was in town to show his latest movie, "Singing Skis," sponsored by the Northeastern Univ. Hus-Skiers, at Rindge Tech, Cambridge, where a large audience greeted this opus with much applause and laughter. 'Twas one of the christying cameraman's best efforts, and included superb shots of the Olympic Team training, speedy ski racers in action, and brilliant scenes at Sun Valley, Yosemite, Stowe, Ogden, and other spots.

"The trip to Switzerland should prove well worthwhile," said Jay. "My wife, Lois, will accompany me, and aid in photographing events. After the games, we plan to visit other places in Europe, in addition to covering some of the classic meets."

Celebrating his tenth year on the American lecture platform, this bronzed expert told us he has discovered interest in skiing to be greater than ever this season, indicated by capacity crowds along the route of his numerous appearance.

And he thinks the American skiers may win at St. Moritz!

QUICK CHRISTIES: Henry Paris, of the Woburn Innitou Ski Runners, called to tell us that the skiing was good on Cannon Mountain, at Franconia, N. H., last week-end. The Aerial Tramway isn't in operation yet, but hundreds of eager enthusiasts clambered up the trails, finding snow conditions best on the Ravine Trail. The valley practice slope, where the rope tow rolled, also attracted throngs . . . Local skiing is still possible in spots . . . "Sherry" Casty, popular Swiss instructor, will assist Karl Acker at Pico Peak this winter.

Marianapolis' Shoe Bowl Foe Beat Army, Navy Frosh Teams

Eastern Shore grid fans will witness their first annual Shoe Bowl game Sunday afternoon at Manning Bowl, Lynn, when Marianapolis Prep School of Thompson, Ct., tangles with Bullis Prep of Silver Spring, Md., at 1:45 o'clock.

Under the auspices of the Italian-American Legion Post of Lynn, the game is listed as the prep school championship of the East.

Bullis invades Lynn with eight straight victories and Marianapolis has won seven games.

Among the victims of the Maryland school are the freshmen teams of Army and Navy. The Army was on a short end of a 20-13 score and the Midshipmen dropped a 14-10 decision to the strong Bullis gridmen.

Other standout victims were Western Maryland's JV's (29-7) and Georgetown Frosh (12-7).

Marianapolis showed its strength by topping the Boston College Frosh 19-7 and the U. of Connecticut JV's, 25-13. Both schools blanked LaSalle M. A. of New York, Marianapolis by 27-0 and Bullis 44-0.

Bears or Rockets to Get Lujack

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Johnny Lujack has decided to play professional football after he graduates from Notre Dame next spring but he can't make up his mind wether it will be with Chicago's Bears or their All-America Conference rivals, the Rockets.

"As you know, I've been drafted by both clubs, but I'm not going to do anything until after I graduate," the Irish's great T-formation quarterback said last night just before receiving the Heisman Memorial Trophy.

The Connellsville, Pa., All-America is the 13th recipient of the annual award, presented to the outstanding college football player of the nation by the Downtown Athletic Club in memory of the late John W. Heisman, for 37 years a coach and athletic director at eight different schools.

"I want to play pro ball, but I haven't given much thought to a choice between the Bears and the Rockets yet," said the mild-mannered, unassuming star of the country's mythical national championship eleven.

"I met George Halas (president and head coach of the Bears) on two occasions, but of course we didn't talk contract," Lujack added.

Val Lujack, oldest of four football-playing brothers, told newsmen he though that Johnny's eventual decision might be influenced toward the Bears through Johnny's close friendship with Sid Luckman, Bears' field general.

Val, along with his father, John Lujack,, Sr., and Mayor Abe I. Daniels of Connellsville, came here for the presentation ceremony which was attended by 600 persons, including coaches, former players and previous recipients of the trophy.

Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame was unable to attend. Leahy was en route to South Bend from the coast with the Irish squad. Lujack, hero of Notre Dame's 38-7 victory over Southern California last Saturday, was flown here to receive the award.

"That U. S. C. game was the best game our club has played all year—and it was the finest Notre Dame team I've ever played on," said Johnny. "Our line was terrific, but then it has been all year," the modest backfield ace hastened to add.

Lujack said he considered the Army team the best offensive combination Notre Dame had encountered this season, while he rated Purdue as tops of Irish opponents defensively.

Tomasiello Wins $300,000 in Suit

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10 (AP)—Damages of $300,000 were awarded to Joseph A. Tomasiello, president of a horse race motion picture concern, against Harry M. Warner and other officials of the Hollywood Turf Club by a superior court jury today.

The jury, by a vote of 11 to 1, awarded compensatory damages of $250,000 against all defendants, and exemplary damages of $50,000 against the rival photo concern and Warner, a motion picture executive.
